55 officers form up on the city steps, a photo Op for Mayor and Council...
But make it quick, Mayor's rehearsal's in an hour at Dancing with the Mob.

FLASH! 54 officers disappear...only one stands tall. Will she be enough to handle tonight's Insurrection and emergency calls?

But wait, cries the city council, we hired new community service assistants —they'll calm the peaceful protesters, urging them to non-resistance, and tuck them all in bed without breaking a single kid's head.

At PD's graveyard roll call, though all the chairs are empty, Sarge calls the Roll's first name—"Virtual Officer iBill !
iBill does not answer—iT says System's Down.

Sarge called Communications..."Have the officers stick around."
"No problem," the automated voice replies, "We'll let you know when iAirSupport's back up in artificial skies."

iCommunications pushed the magic button, Citizen's on hold can now sing along with our
*New Community Service Assistant Minstrels.*¹

*Remember: If you see something, do something,
Call Virtual Officer iBill.*
