

Just another Gift from God's Hand

© 2004, by Jackie Kays

Hues of pink and orange light up the early morning sky as the fiery daylight star is born once more and no one questions why.

Soft white clouds billow into the pink early morning light, as a young Hummingbird spreads its wings and learns to take flight.

From a bright red rose basking in the warmth of the sun's golden rays, soft diamond shaped dewdrops glisten in the early morning haze.

A warm summer breeze softly glides through the tall oak trees.
Life is everywhere, birds, butterflies, a rainbow of flowers full of humming bees.

Just another beautiful summer day,
Just another panorama of this wonderful land,

Just another gift from God.