PTSD

Warriors expose themselves to enemy's ire
For a brother whose life's spirit bleeds-out in dreadful dire.

They raced to the Medevac Ghost ship, stacked with dead, pooled-blood shimmering, rotors whopping, and begged God speed to Surgeon's lair.

Brothers caringly lock and load stretcher through Huey's portal, unknowingly into the other side of Heaven's Wall.

Seeds sown to reap another languishing soul decades hence, a PTSD harvest most certain, upon touching engraved name . . . slapped with memories of his brains drying on a log.
