They are sitting at the 377th Air Police Squadron, Patio area.

I can not tell you what food Col Coe has just eaten. I can only tell you that he put some hot sauce on it, by the looks of that small bottle.

The 377th Air Police Squadron, conducts “Guardmount” prior to going to work for the night.

At “Guardmount” important information would be given out. Then an inspection of the men would take place. They would then be posted for the night.

“C Flight” was the midnight shift.

This is probably the same “Guardmount” as the photograph above. Only from a different angle.
