North Vietnam ordered a Tết Offensive against South Vietnam to begin on January 30-31, 1968. On the 30th, an attacking force of 84,000 North Vietnamese Army and Viet Cong troops were in position for attacking the South's military bases, cities, and villages.

This is the story of one of the battles that ensued across South Vietnam: The Battle of Biên Hòa, against the Province of Biên Hòa, and Biên Hòa Air Base, defended by the USAF 3rd Security Police Squadron.

At 3:00 am on 31 January 1968, the Battle of Biên Hòa began with an attacking NVA and VC force of 1,400 troops, upon the Biên Hòa Air Base perimeter and Bunker Hill-10. First alarm was sounded by USAF Sentry Dog Handler Airman Press when his Sentry Dog, Diablo, strongly alerted. Within seconds, Airman Press was wounded, and Diablo was shot dead.

Presented here are stories of several participants in defense of Biên Hòa Air Base and Province. Although the Tết Offensive was a major military defeat for North Vietnam in which more than half of its forces were killed, it was the turning point for the war.
