I Feel Just Like a Baby!

No hair, no teeth. Wet my diaper, can't remember mothering, don't sleep well, both wrinkled, can't see very far,

don't eat much, don't sleep much and cry a lot!

The only difference between myself and a baby is that he has just arrived and am getting ready to leave.

He's only one . . . and I'm eighty-five!
