Dear Robert McNamara:

May your God Damn you Robert McNamara.

Damn you for walking away from the war you helped to create.

Damn you for walking away when you KNEW it was a lost cause.

Damn you for not speaking out when you knew it was lost.

Damn you for feeling more loyalty to the power structure and no loyalty to the people you were telling to risk their lives for your mistake.

Damn you for all the Names on The Wall after you left.

I hope you hear the screams of the dying and the wounded every night in your dreams...

I hope you live a long time with those screams, you miserable motherf....
