First KIA Body...

Not like I thought it would be.

He's staring at what?

I can't see....

Note: What I am hoping to convey is a young man going off to war, just like John Wayne in the movies, and wondering what the first killed-in-action dead body he will see will be like--only, it turns out to be himself. Life and death, are full of surprises, and when you are a young warrior, it takes a while to realize that you are not immortal and can die.
