Photo #1 (Đà Nẵng AB):

Đà Nẵng CSC in 1971. It was very heavily fortified and had a great air conditioning system which was a welcome luxury. I worked as complotter on Cobra Flight for about half my time at Đà Nẵng. Sgt Timothy Krouse (see photo #9) from PA worked with me most or all of the time. We had contact with various army units several rocket spotter locations and other agencies that I do not recall.

Photo #2A & 2B (Đà Nẵng AB):

The results of one of the rocket attacks in 1971. I assume it was a hit on one of the POL areas judging from the heavy black smoke. Photo was given to me.

Me on the M60. The SP feeding ammo is unknown.

Photo #5 (Đà Nẵng AB): Me on an APC.

Photo #6A, 6b, and 6c (Đà Nẵng AB): At the firing range. I remember the XM-174 grenade launcher could put out 12 rounds before the first one hit the ground. The SP wearing the hat and smoking a pipe worked in Training, I think. All of them are unknown.

Photo #6C

Watching the M-79 (Blooper) being fired.
Again, all the SP's are unknown.

Me on my bunk.

A shot of me in our hut. As you can see we had it pretty rough. One of the guys in our hut was pretty clever when it came to "finding" items of comfort, provided we gave up some of our rationed items

Coming back from chow. Sgt Krouse is following me.

One of my hut-mates. I want to say his name is Doyle, but I am not sure.

Photo #12 (Đà Nẵng AB):

This is My, our hut maid. She was a very kind and caring lady.

Photo #13 (Đà Nẵng AB):

This is one of our huts directly accrossed from the Armory. The results of a typhoon that hit Đà Nẵng in 1971.

This is a shot of a young girl talking to one of the bunker guards. Behind her is the area that we referred to as "Dog Patch."

This is me processing out for emergency leave after getting word that my mother had died.
