

War Dogs! Memorial

The simple fact is: American War Dogs like Blackie (photo right: Blackie X129) were left behind in Vietnam -- abandoned -- intentionally. There has been no tribute to these dogs until the Discovery Channel program, sponsored by Nature's Recipe, as envisioned and promoted by the Vietnam Dog Handlers Association, the Association for All Vietnam War Dog Handlers!

About the War Dogs Memorial

War Dogs Memorial is sculpted, by world-renown sculptor, A. Thomas Schomberg. The War Dogs Memorial will stand 16 feet and 10 feet at its base and is made of bronze and granite. The first of two War Dogs Memorials will be unveiled on Presidents Day in the year 2000, at Riverside National Cemetery, the nation's largest.

The second Memorial will be at Arlington National Cemetery, within sight of the Lincoln Memorial. Proceeds from WAR DOGS will help fund memorials at the Riverside National Cemetery in California, and a second memorial in the Washington, D.C. area. In honor of the dogs and handlers who served in Vietnam.
